

Robin Jay

Educating and Entertaining Audiences

THE ART OF THE BUSINESS LUNCH Building Relationships Between 12 and 2

Author, Speaker
& Relationship Professional

Robin Jay teaches, motivates and inspires her audiences. Robin is author of "The Art of the Business Lunch ~ Building Relationships Between 12 and 2", and she shares more than 25 years of successful sales experience. Her anecdotal stories and real-life situations will entertain and educate your team or organization. Sales and job satisfaction will soar when Robin coaches your team on the importance of strong client relationships and how to build long-lasting bonds.

Topics include:

- The Art of the Business Lunch
Building Relationships Between 12 and 2
- Building Relationships
Sincerity and Compassion in the Business World
- The "Special" Secret
Learn what is missing from people's lives and how you can make a difference

What Robin Jay's clients have to say:

"Robin, thank you for your time. Many of my guests e-mail me after each event. Some of the comments were:
~ 'I loved Robin. I bought her book and went right home to read it.'
~ 'Thank you for inviting Robin to speak tonight. She was outstanding and so right-on.'
~ 'I was really impressed with your speaker, Robin Jay. She answered a lot of my questions.'
Robin, thank you again for a great job."

- Sherial Bratcher, Founder/CEO
Diamond Star Events

"I just wanted to tell you how fantastic you were at our meeting this week. I am still getting phone calls and e-mails. Your subject 'The Art of the Business Lunch' should be a requirement for every business."

- Dan Price, President
Convention Services Association
Las Vegas

"As a business professional, I have attended seminars and lectures from coast to coast looking for additional ways to maximize my business day. Finally, after attending Robin Jay's seminar, 'The Art of the Business Lunch - Building Relationships between 12 and 2', I have found the perfect solution. Ms. Jay's lecture encompasses the principles needed for effective communication and showed me how to get the most from a business day. After listening to Ms. Jay, I have recommended her seminar to my sales staff and business associates searching for secrets on how to communicate more effectively with clients. I also recommended that my staff read Robin's book of the same name. From junior account executives to senior managers, 'The Art of the Business Lunch' has proven to be an effective tool with the right blend of insight and entertainment. I intend to book Ms. Jay for a speaking engagement at my next company meeting and will continue to recommend her services to associates."

- Chris Angelo, Business Development Manager
Mosak Marketing Group